What is the difference between tramp ling on the Constitution and laws of the United States and trampling under foot the Constitution and laws of a State?

The reserved rights of a State are older than the Federal Government, and where the latter got the right to assume absolute power over the territory and laws of a State we do not see. It is going on the law of self-preservation, this Federal Covernment, States have a right to self-preservation as well.

The conduct of those in charge of the Federal Government is revolutionary, being utterly unwarranted by the nature of our insti-

The Government, it is assumed, may do anything to save itself from destruction. The States, on the same principle, may do anything to save themselves from destruction The opposition to the Democratic party have always regarded the Federal Government as some natural underived sovereignty, bound to live if the States perished. The history of the formation of this Federa! Government refutes the idea of its having any power over any object not grinted to it in the Constitution, and teaches that the reserved rights of a State are sacred and independent of this Federal Government. Those who us any power to resist and defy the reserved but they had not taken the oath that the power of a State are guilty of rebellion and Judges knew of. They showed the order, and treason, not a whit less so because they can't resolutely refused to violate it. They debe called to account for it.

It is idle for these self-styled Unionists to rail at rebels after their conduct at the late elections. The Southern rebels defied th Constitution and laws of the Federal Government in order to get power. The bogus Unionists of Kentucky have done the same thing in this State for the paltry consideration of power in the State. They have violated by force acknowledged Constitutions and laws. What more have Davis & Co. done? Kentucky against her Constitution and laws that the man to have the poll books. The officer or-Federal Government has to put down and dered him to take it to the clerk's office. The punish resistance to its laws. That Kentucky has not power to do it, does not after the Men forget that such conduct as this is rev clu ion by force, under the pretext of puttie; down rebellion. Indeed, the reflecting min. can't escape the conviction that the programme of the war is revolutionary. It is not to maintain the Government and enforce its laws, but to destroy it, and substitute something else in its stead.

Having forsaken chart and compass, where shall we drift to, and where shall we land hat sort of a Government is to grow out of this? Not the old one certainly, if this pro

The status of the negro is often alluded to All parties have the negro on the brain; but it comes up naturally, because it is a subject that belongs exclusively to the States: the Federal Government having no right to touch it. But we have been threatened by this bog us Union party with a Military Governor, if they couldn't get power. If they could not rule, they would hand the whole State over to mili

We repeat the question-where are we drift ing to?

We publish this morning the comments of Abolition papers on the elections in this State, and a letter to one of them from this State. Somebody is cheated-that is clear. Either these Aboli ionists are sadly mistaken. or the people of this State don't comprehend what they have done for themselves. S'avery is gone up or down; that is assured, according to this election. How is it that these Unionists have made such an impression on the whole country? Republicans and Democrats understand them the same way. They are for the unqualified support of the Administration. That is loudly proclaimed by the so-called Unionists of this State. There is some protesting and pretense of holding back, but the essential of supporting the war, no matter what the Administration may do with it, is the point. The Abolitionists all see it and rejoice over it as a great victory for them, and sneer at Copperheads in the free States for being behind Kentucky in devotion to the programme of the Administration. What was called the Border State policy is abandoned, they exult, by Kentucky. It is even so, we apprehend; but the voters of this State, more not think so. They have made a blunder that they will see the fruits of when it is too late to correct it.

We did all we could to prevent this misunderstanding, and were denounced as a Secessionist for our pains. We warned the people now. The wrongs of one year will not do for of this State of Disunion purposes in 1869, and law another. This whole matter had been were called an Abolitionist as a reward for it. Bramlette & Co. are going into Abolitionism and all these irregularities condemned. It is now as plainly as Breckinridge & Co. were too late to go behind the record. The platgoing into Disunion in 1860. The Abolitionists think they see this and rejoice at it. Have they not good reason to think so? Are Republicans and Democrats both mistaken? Are all observers mistaken in the road those Unionists are going? We say they are not and Gillem, were captured, on the night of it in less than twelve months. Indeed, the majority see it now, and would have told a different story if the election had been free.

Let not Kentucky be misunderstood. These politicians have got the start, and the pollbooks tell a false story. Kentucky is for the Union and against the rebellion. The candidates told the people generally that they agreed with the Northern Democracy, had acted with them, whilst, in fact, they must according to the front they wear, act with the Republicans, and are claimed by that party.

We shall publish hereafter what Democrats say of this election and the party that has won by anything but fair means.

Perhaps more vigor will be manifested by the Administration in its military operations, The most military vigor we have seen lately, which was not specially attributable to the officers and soldiers in the army, has been shown in controlling the Kentucky election. There was a good deal of vigor shown in that. Perhaps now that this is carried for the Administration by bayonets, the bayonets can be out to use against the rebels.

A good joke, if one could regard any trifling with the laws of the State as a joke, happened at Clarke's river precinct, in McCracken county. The Judges had a military order requiring all candidates to take an oath. The books were opened, but nobody had taken the oath except the candidates for Magistrate and Constable, and the Judges would put nobody else's oath on the book The officer at the head of the squad required Bramlette & Co to be placed on the book, manded a rigid compliance with the order. A copy of the Louisville Journal was produced to settle the matter; but the Judges would not be convinced. The military put off to Paducah to get the matter explained; but the Judges closed the polls, there being nobody to vote, before the military got back, and the voters were all dispersed. The clerk took the fused to receive them, saving he had no control of them. The clerk said it was a military has the same right to punish this rebellion election, and he supposed the officer was the

Our readers will recollect that Judge Trimble, candidate for Congress in the First District, was arrested some time ago. The Judge has been one of the firm constitutional at the commencement of these difficulties scarce. He did not believe, however, in this war being used for revolutionary purposes. THE MODERN ULYSSES.

BY E. H. E. JAMESON. Ulysses of old, In story we're told, Was a har dsome young hero, exceedingly bold, Who entered a cave, so brave and defiant, And poked out the eye of a terrible giant.

'Twas a beautiful trick, And accomplished so quick,
That all the old Cyclops thought him "a brick."
His boldness and dash so excited their wonder
That the pilfering fellows were obliged to knock

So our Ulysses Who never mi Who never misses, Wa'ked up to Trea-on's yawning abysses, And ere the menster had time to fly out, With a dexterous blow he punches his eye out.

And s'ill undaunted,

Ulysses wanted
The chivalrous Cyclops' city—'twas Granted.
Their power was gone, they could 't defend her,
And so the poor giants had to surrender. In future story,
When deeds of glory
Are told of war so dreadful and gory—
Let it be recorded when Treason is dead,

(From the Washington Chronicle.) The Meaning of the Kentucky Elec tions. Nothing shows more clearly that the rebell

on is nearing its close than the utter disor canization of its votaries in the North and South. As long as it had the least apparent chance of success, a power of cohesion and a concert of action were everywhere evident among its supporters that have now entirely vanished. Its organs utter falsehoods as pro fusely as ever, but without homogeneousness their vituperation has lest congruity. They tituperation has lest congruity. They attack in feeble spasms. They fall back in disordered masses. They have been stunned by the heavy blows of Gettysburg, Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and they fight wildly. This is clearly seen in the way they receive the news from Kentucky. It is of course a terrible defeat. Instead of receiving it with resignation, they recalcitrate against it with a fury which comes of despair, but with an obsticacy borrowed from rebellion. But they cannot agree upon a plan of falseboot. The New York World, the organ of the Mackerel ville Democracy, says that it is an Abolition trlumph, carried by military despotism, and represents the successful cardidates in all the nigritude of misguided Republicanism, as forced down the throats of reluctant "Kectucky chaps," on the point of v-ry bright and exceedingly long bayonets. Mr. Lincoln is a judicious combinat on of Nero and Mumbo Jumbo, and Gen Burnside is a satrap and a burcher and an Abolition horde. This is bold, original, and racy. It indicates inger, defeat, assured diagrace, but still is nstinct with pluck undying. It is infinitely petter than the elaborate air of dignified sais faction which an antique journal of this city brings to its misrepresentations. It comes to the rescue of a falling cause with unusual haste, in contravention of its rule of not men-tioning events till people have forgotten them; an admirable rule, by the way, insuring impuan additable rate, by the way, insuring inpunity to mendacity, as nebody cares to correct a misst itement a month old. Instead of sd-mitting a defeat, and being angry over it like the firty young rebel of the World, the ancient newspaper aforesaid prefers to break its fall by the soft, convenient and accustomed cushion of a falsehood. It claims, with a breaky impudence that is overwith a breezy impudence that is over-whelming, that the election is a victory for its

"You object to negro soldiers. Who began is business? Who raised the first negro this business? Who raised the first negro regiment? Did Lincoln? Don't you know that in the beginning of this strife, in New Orleans, they heralded it abroad that they had already organized two negro regiments to fight the Yankees with? Don't you know that the first act in the Tennessee rebel legislature was the organization of free negro reg-iments? Don't you know it to be a fact, furtherthat they have regiments of shaped in their service, to tomma-and scalp our women and original au nore, that children? And yet not one of you here a loyalty that they themselves refuse to exassembled, I will venture say, have heard these constitutional Union gentlemen object to now invoke is favor for the rebels. Here, Mr. Robber, I am not going to succeed in driving you off by any such aid as that; you may burn my house and take my property.' Is this what any sane man would do? But it is just in this way that Southern sympathizers—Constitutional Union men—talk. They would have us, because the Presidant does not use just such weapons as they think proper, say, just such weapons as they think proper, say, 'Here, Jeff Davis, take all we have, and slay us as soon as you please; no another man or another dollar can we give until Lincoln quits fighting with these things.'

open rebellion with which he has so glorious-It seems impossible for these journals "suckled in a creed worn out" to form sny conception of the course of events and the changing exigencies of the times. They are too old and to infirm to keep abreast of the advancing truth. The representative in this changing exigencies of the times. They are too old and to infirm to keep abreast of the advancing truth. The representative in this city of mutiny and treason especially had better confine its disquisitions to Greek and Reman politics and its narratives to the incidents of the Deluge, and it will still be capital reading to those who look at the world through double-convex lenses. It simply makes itself absurd when it claims to stand in relation with any party of the present day. Especially when it arrogates to itself any connection with the powerful and aggressive young Union party regenerated in Kentucky, it will be met with the stern rebuke with which the reformed Henry of England replied to the ribald congratulations of Falstaff, the foolish old representative of riot and debauchery:

"I know thee not, old man. Fall to thy prayers; How ill white hairs become a fool and jester! I have long dreamed of such a kind of man, So surfeit-twelled, so old, and so profane; But being awake! do despise my dream. For Heaven doeth know, so shall the word performed that a mather thing I was:

For Heaven doeth know, so shall the word performed the new York Herald with the army of the Potomae, makes the fol lowing extracts from letters recently captures from a mail carrier:

STARVED AND DISCOURAGED REBEL SOLDIERS

I have never seen anything equal our poor starved soldiers. (Yes, starved.) I never saw such a change in so short a time.

Our men seem discouraged. Never before did I see them inclined to complain at any hardship they had to undergo; but now many of them say they can't stand the way they are marched and starved from post to pillar, and they won't. They come back so dirty and so many bareforted, look faded and dishertened. Poor creatures, I pity them from my heart, but I could not supply their wants. And now it grisves me; so many haggresis and pleading eyes come up before some that I kave not enjoyed one mouthful since our army passed, though I have done the best I could for them.

Presume not that I am the thing I was: For Heaven docth know, so shall the word perceive, That I have turned away my former self; So will I those that kept me company."

(From the New York Times.) THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE KENTUCKY ELEC-

The strongest argument of the Copperheads, from their first origin, has been the necessity of conciliating the Border S ates and keeping them well-affected. In itself it was a fair argument. No intelligent man could deny that it was a matter of great moment that Maryland, Kentucky, and Missouri, which that Maryland, Kentucky, and Missouri, which can be a sound of the men we lost undecessarily over there. There was plenty to do on our own soil, and here we ought to have staid. But it seems as if as soon as our army originally held back from the Confederacy, riginally held back from the Confederacy, sould still be retained on the side of the nion. This was important physically, for their combined population was over three millions; and still more important morally, for they were all slave States, and their inter-ests were identical with those for the defense of which the rebellion had been originally un-

The fault was not in the argument that the object was an important one, but in the as-sumption that it could never be effected ex-cept by Copperhead methods. There was what was called a "Berder State policy," which, it was claimed, must be particularly favored by the Government. The distinctive features of this policy were such a conduct of catures of this policy were such a conduct of the war that slavery should suffer in the least degree possible, and the procurement of peace at the errliest day, by overtures and a liberal compromise. The Administration was deounced by the Copperheads in the most un-tensured terms for refusing that policy. The onfiscation bills, and the President's Emanation proclamation, and the stand taken the loyalty was to be unconditional, were dered to be expressly calculated to drive the Border States into the arms of the Confedesey; and there were no maledictions strong tough to be vented against the Government or its blindness and its treachery. The abuse which these Copperheads have kept up against the Administration in behalf of the wronged Border States has been what they lived on -their meat and their drink-ever since they well, isn't it extraordinary that, after all this pecular concern for their feelings and their interests, these same Border States should spurn the Copperheads with greater chemenes than any other part of the courjuity alm st unexampled in the political history of the State—and that, too, though his opponent boldly espoused the entire general policy of the Government. Northern State, during the last year, has pronounced so emphatically for the Con-tinuance of the war without reserve or qualification as Kentucky has just done. The Copperheadism which still so defiantly raises its malignant crest in Ohio and New York, in arming negroes, and to other measures that Kentucky lies to-day mangled and dead and a Arming negroes, and to other measures to a make up what is, called the 'radical party.'

Now the facts of the case are these: The Governor-elect, Colonel Bramlette, United Covernor-elect, Colonel Bramlette, Col only of the most unconditional sort in resi stration, and practically embraced Abolition body doubts that it will result in an overwhelming majority for the war policy of the Administration. The Copperheads have long since abandoned the last hope of getting the control of the politics of that State. Not even Massachusetts itself is to-day more staunch in

"Border State policy," as the Copperheads used to employ the term, has become the grossest of misnomers. There are, in fact, no States where it is more earnestly despised and repudiated. And the reasons for this are plain enough. There are no States which excepted where it could not be used to effect some useful purpose in suppressing the re-with the rebellion, and which so thoroughly bellion. suffered from it, too, as no other States have, to be affected by it, turn around and want to help Jeff Davis. You sympathize with him in regard to his slaves; and to that extent, at alike interdict all attempts to palter with it. They are for crushing it at all costs; and feeling thus, they carnestly support the Administration through which alone it can be crushed. As for slavery, the mass of their people give themselves no particular concern for that institution. They understand full well that slavery has had its day, and is no longer worth an anxious thought. They have practical sense enough to govern themselv by the actual state of things, and not by a the day with whole soul, and to know no other policy than that of driving the war straight through to the absoluce extinction of the rebellion.

Copperheadism thus repudiated in the Border States, it is more than ever impossible that it should thrive in the Northern. It cannot for a moment be pretended that the latter plca that the Border States were entitled to peculiar sympathy, on the ground of their proclivities for the institution of negro-slavery, and that the public policy should be shaped in accordance with their feelings, is now turned directly against its to tomma-is now turned directly against its women and original authors. The border States demand questionable. She has taken it firmly, unal-terably, and forever. She has ever been loyal to the Union. She is now—and she ever will be—loyal to the Union. Rights which she may deem invaded by an administration, present or to come, she will maintain and de-find within the Union and at the ballot-box. well as the wickedness of their course, and well as the wickedness of their course, and "lay down the arms of rebellion," and return to their allegiance to her and their common country. They may inflict still further injuries upon her bosom, but they will finally perish—they are working their own destruction, not hers. Kentucky claims the exclusive right over the institution of slavery in her borders. She claims the same for every other institution claims the same for every other institution peculiar to any State in the Union, and not inconsistent with the National Constitution; its control belongs exclusively to the State; but if slavery perishes incidentally in this great conflict, her loyal heart says, let it perish; but long live the Union, the Constitution, and the Nation. In the view of Kentucky, slavery is an acknowledged and regretted evil—it is the elephant which she has unfortunately inherited, and knows not what to do with.

All loyal and sensible men in Kentucky Southern Confederacy, for every means and measure that you object to being used by the Federal Government, you are perfectly willing that the rebel government should use. You are opposed to the Union being maintained by unconstitutional measures, but you are willing Jeff Davis should fight unconstitutionally to destroy the Union and the Constitution. This shows where your heart is better than your formal professions of Unionism."

If the opponents of the Government are satisfied with this style of talk so are we. Indeed, we only wish we had the space to print the whole of Colonel Bramlette's most admirable and patriotic address, but the above extracts will show how much cause for congratulation the organs of mutiny and anarchy have in the result of the Kentucky elections.

Nor can this class of journalists take refuge in the Congressional elections, for in these they will find still less comfort, if possible Bintus Clay will not listen with a very good grace to such twaddle, and General Green Clay Smith, firsh from his triumph over the conservative Menzies, would be disgusted with a veiled treason more odious than the DESERTERS JUMP OVERBOARD. - The Star Gray Eagle arrived from below Monday, bringing up a number of deserters and prisoners from different points along the river. Among the latter was Wm. Wilson, formerly teller in the banking house of A. D. Hunt & Co., of this city. At Derby's Landing three men got on board the boat who were deserters from the Federal army. After the boat had gone some distance up the river, some person on board recognized the three men, and pointed them out as deserters, when they "smelt a mice," and all three jumped overboard and swam ashore just before the bost reached Amsterdam.

There were but few arrests made yesterday by the detectives. Some few deserters were picked up. We are not allowed the privilege now of publishing the names of those who have given bond, taken the oath, or anything relative to affairs at the military prison. We suppose the suppression of such news is deemed "a military necessity."

Cairo is threatened with twenty days' furloughed men from below, on their way home. Twenty deserters delivered themselves up after listening to a speech from Gen. Logan, at Marion, a day or two ago.

Deserters are being captured daily in the southern counties of Illinois, and forwarded to their regiments.

MEMPHIS, August 9. A company of citizen scouts, numbering about sixty, who organized in North Alabama in June last to resist the conscription, have thus far evaded every effort to capture them. They report to Gen. Dodge, at Corinth. Their number is increasing daily, and they have either captured or drives out every officer ent into that section to enforce the conscrip-

Hodge, of New Jersey, was appointed temporary Chairman; Hov. W. Ellsworth, of Connecticu, was made permanent President; Prof. North, of Hamilton College, Secretary; Wm Dodge, of New York, Chairman. The President delivered an eloquent inaugural address, and Professor Philip Schaff Penn read an (Ssay on the American Sabbath. The convention aljourned to Thursday

Several delegates, representing the Boards of Trade of several Western cities, who have recently visited Portland, paid a visit to-day, by special invitation, to the rooms of the Boston Board of Trade, where they were welcomed by the President, J. G. Converse, Esq. Speeches were made by Lieut. Gov. May, of Michigan; Messrs. Hancock and Fairbanks, of Chicago; Hadley, of Milwaukee; Mayor Lincoln, and others.

Organized, as many of them were, of refu-gees beyond the limits of their own State, and at a time when there was no competent State authority to recognize their existence they rushed into the fight regardless of the forms usually taken in such cases. The ten theuand East Tennesseeans in the army, and the 250,000 loyal men, women and children of that section, look on with intense anxiety to know if they are to receive Federal protection, for upon the decision of that question depends the lives and happiness of thousands of loyal East Tennesseeans, whose crops are now being ravaged and destroyed by rebil hordes, whose neighborhoods are being swept by the rebel conscriptions, whose people have so long looked in vain for succor. AN OUTRAGE.—A quiet and incironsive old man, by the name of Obed Brown, living in Walnut township, in this county, was attacked by a gang of rowdies in this city on Saturday last, and severely beaten in their attempt to rob him of a butternut pin. The old getternan would have served them as they deserved had he started their worthless souls (if they have any or the road to "kingdom come." they have any) on the road to "king dom come," and then thrown their contemptible carcases to the hogs.—Circleville (O) Watchman, 7th.

Good for him. The more you do for a woman the more you may expect,

The Morgan County (Ind.) Gazette reorts, on the authority of Henry Sims, that Mr. Felix Rhinehart, of that county, since the first of August-a year ago-has done the following formidable pile of work: Put up 2,167 panels of fence, embracing 23.727 rails, and cut 5,600 new rails. A considerable portion Cut 100 cords of wood, put 20 acres in oats, 30 acres in core, 20 acres in wheat, 5 acres in rye, 10 acres in grass, and 21/2 acres in tobacco. He has raised in addition 25 bushels of onions, a large quantity of potatoes and other farm products, together with tending his crops, harvesting, &c. During the year Mr. Rhinehart rode baliff two court terms. Pretty good for one man.

The clause concerning the only son, liable to military duty, of a widow dependent upon his labor for support, is thus constaued by the Provost-Marshal General:

A widow may have several other sons, but if they are not liable to do military duty, then the particular son on whom she is dependent for support will be exempt; but if her other sons are liable to do m litary duty, the fact that she is dependent on a particular son for support will not exempt him from the draft.

The Marshall County (Ind.) Republican says that a young man of eighteen, named Hale, fell against a buzz saw, in a stave facto ry, some miles north of Plymouth, last Tuesday, and before he could be rescued the saw cut through his upper and lower jaw, on one side, and clear through his nose. Little hope Great Mass Meeting to be Held was telt for his recovery, though he was alive at the latest account and in his senses.

> KILLED HIMSELF.-Robert Ware, an Englishman, aged about forty years, a baker and confectioner, at Batavia, Ohio, killed himself on Saturday afternoon while breaking a sho!gun over his door-step. The contents consisting of two or three slngs, entered his heart, causing instant death. He was under the influence of liquor at the time.

Vicksburg is being put in complete sanitary condition. Rations are issued daily to upwards of a thousand inhabitants.

The guerrilla, Richardson, has returned to West Tennessee with re-enforcements to carry out the conscription. He is said to have instructions to conscript all light colored negroes between the ages of eighteen and fortyfive to serve three years as soldiers, at the expiration of which time they are to be manumitted, but receive no pay while they are in the service.

YALE COLLEGE.—Yale College has been favored the past year with endowments to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars. S.

B. Crittenden has given thirty thousand dollars to endow the pastorate of Yale College.

Joseph Battell has offered to head a subscription list with thirty thousand dollars for a new chapel.

One hundred and fifty contrabands arrived in Cincinnati on Saturday. "Oh, whar will we go, Ef de war breaks de country up?"

It is thought that the celebrated Indian hief Little Crow has been killed.

Admiral Farragut has arrived in New York city.

PORT OF LOUISVILLE. ARRIVALS AUGUST 11TH. Gen'l Buell, from Cincinnati. Undine, from Madison Gray Eagle, from Henderson. Tycoon, from Vicksburg. Dacotah, from Vicksburg. Prima Donna, from Vicksburg.

DEPARTURES AUGUST 12TH Gen. Buell, to Cincinnati. Undine to Madison.
Gray Eagle, to Henderson.
Tycoon, to Cincinnati.
Dacotab, to Cincinnati.
Prima Donna, to Cincinnati.

The Undine, Capt. Conway, has been for some me repairing, painting, and refitting at Madison. and will make her appearance here next Monday, ugust 10th, to resume her trips in her old trade, Louisville, Madison, and Carrellton, leaving here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at 12 M. Her officers are clever and obliging, and have always given general satisfaction to passengers and au4 dtd.

The river yesterday was about at a stand, the fall having been checked by the rise from above. The mark in the canal last evening indicated scant three feet, six inches water, showing a decline uring the previous twenty-four hours of not over ne half as inch. The weather in the morning was clear and exceedingly hot, the thermometer reaching 93 degrees in the shade, but in the afternoo we had a refreshing shower, which greatly cooled the atmosphere. Owing to the failure of our dispetches, we were unable to get a statement of the water vesterday at Cincinnatie or Pittsburg. FOR CINCINNATI.-The Major Anderson is the ailboat at noon.

The Lower Ohio continues in tolerable condition or light draught steamers. The latest arrivala eet seven inches on Scuffletown ba., and fully five feet water in the channel from Evansville out to Cairo. The most difficult points for boats is the Portland bar, where there is scant four feet water. The river at St. Loois is slowly rising, with low water from that point to Cairo, there not being over four feet ten inches on some of the bars. The river from St. Paul down is in better cond ion than it was two months ago. There is three feet on the upper, and twenty inches on the lower rapids, and from Keokuk to St. Louis there is still three feet on the bars.

The mouth of the Missouri has become a hard spot for boats going up or coming down that stream. There is only four feet at the mouth, although 51/4 feet above and 41/4 to Leavenworth There is from thirty inches to three feet wate from St. Joseph to the mountains.

We learn that the steamer Emma Floyd has been sold to parties in Memphis. The sale was made a few days since, the price paid for the boat being The Wm. Wallace and Aurora are both due from below. The latter has 3,340 sacks of corn for this place, and 50 bales of cotton for Cincinnati.

The Imperial has been laid up at Cairo for the Eastern Exchange. The Undine having been thoroughly overhauled nd repaired, made her appearance at the wharf sterday, and resumed her place in the Madison ade. The Undine will run regularly in the trade eaving this city every Tuesday. Thursday anp Satrday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The J. T. McCombs, in charge of Captain Ballard, a thorough boatman, is the regular mail and passenger packet for Owensboro, Evansville and Henderson this evening, leaving the Porland wharf at 5 o'clock. The Monsoon will be at the city wharf this mornng for St. Louis. BARBAROUS.-The Tycoon, from Vicksburg, hav-Pikeville, Ala., and organizing with the citizens to resist the conscription. The system of conscription in West Tennessee has been pretty effectively broken up by the vigilance of Hurlburt.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 10.

Confinement of Gov. Alkan in the Libby Prison.—Dr. Everett, Surgeon of the Fifth Tennessee regiment, who has just been released from Luby Prison, states that he was confined in the same room with Ex-Governor Alkan of South Carolina, and had frequent conversations with him. So many ounces of confined in the same room with Ex-Governor A ken of South Carolina, and had frequent coaversations with him. So many ounces of bread and so many ounces of meet was deal out to each man per day, and the venerable old gray-haired patriot received his, and the boys were kind enough to cook it for him The offenses for which he was imprisoned were refusing to take the oath of allegiance to the Southern Confederacy and to coatrioute means to sustain the rebellion. In conversing about his confinement he would frequently sned tears. This venerable old patriot is the largest slaveh ider in the Cenfederacy, and about the wealthiest man in South Carolina; but he is a Union man, and refuses to be anything else. For this he is incarcerated in a loathsome dangeon. His confinement has been kept a secret from the outside world, and kept out of the Southern papers, because his villainous persecutors were ashamed to let his imprisonment be known.

The infamy and despotism of the rebell Government is better learned by such acts as this of imprisoning Gov. Aiken than by any declamation in which we might induige. It is impossible that such a man as william Aiken, an ex Governor, ex Congressman, and a man universally esteemed for his private virtues, can be without friends, even in South Carolins; but they are muzzled by the same power which throws the aged, the rich and the virtuous Aiken into a loathsome duugeon.

DR. JOHN BULL'S COMPOUND

The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century.

NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CON rected with the history of the Materia Me' ca of the United States, or more favorably knowing a pioner is med cal discovery, than that of Dr. John BULL. of Louisville sy. His initiable preparation of Saranacilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that v. luable dr g. His Coare can Procream sounds of that v. luable dr. z. His Compound Pecron with Olymbry has become a household word hrow the Uses at 15 South; and its Worm Lose getes than a sear after their introduction attaited a ratation as we despread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to titalined in his atest discovery, or rathes combination he does not claim to have even the discoverer EDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offer the property of the public. The stip of the public that we have the combination of the public. while Dr. Bull is not propared to indore this extravers and petension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a DYSPEPSIA, And its attend on train of symptoms, it as a more like a charm than med line. There is nothing in the whole range of the Materia Medica, that can for a moment BEAR a comparison with it in this disease.

A ull account of this wonderful pi att may be fund in the lith edition of the U.S. Dispensatory, pages 1387 and 85. A series of experiments in which Dr. Buil has been years entaged has just been brought to a "necessful ministion, and he is now enabled to offer to the pub-a combination of Cedron with other approved to also e whole pie even in the best quality of copp r-dis-led Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has n Hiled Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has no equa in the wold. He might urnish a volume of certificates, but the publi have long since learned to estimate such thing at their true value. The safest pla is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the Cedron Bitters, ne t-lal and you will never use any others. It is not eces any to publish a long list of diseases for which the Cedro Bitters are a specific.
